

Olympic Order

During the 106th IOC Session, the IOC President presented the Olympic Order to the following honorary IOC members: Syed Wajid Ali (Pakistan), Włodzimierz Reczek (Poland), Gunnar Ericsson (Sweden) Maurice Herzog (France), and Kevin O'Flanagan (Ireland), and also to the academics who wrote the three-volume work on the history of the IOC under the direction of Raymond Gafner, delegate administrator of the IOC. The authors are: Karl Lennartz (Germany), Norbert Miller (Germany), Fernand Landry (Canada), Magdeleine Yerles (Canada), Yves-Pierre Boulongne (France), and Otto Schantz (Germany). Olympic Orders were also presented to the following persons for their dedicated service to the Olympic Movement: Nadya Lekarska (Bulgaria), Nina Popova (Bulgaria), Nona Gaprindashvili (Georgia), Miquel de Moragas (Spain), Chris Dubrel de Broglio (Mauritius), Sivanthi Adityan (India), and Ridvan Mentes (Turkey).

(Left to right) Madeline Yerles, Yves-Pierre Boulongne, Norbert Müller, Otto Schantz, Fernand Landry and Karl Lennartz.

Furthermore, the IOC Executive Board has decided to award the Olympic Order to Erika Dienstl (Germany), Dieter Graf Landsberg-Velen (Germany), Elena Belova (Belarus), Jorge Ortiz Patino (Bolivia), Martí Perarnau (Spain), Josep

A. Pujante (Spain), Robert Brennan (United States), Roy Jones (United States), Vladimir Maksimov (Russian Federation), Béla Bay (Hungary), Peter Stastny (Slovakia), and Sigge Bergman (Sweden).

(Left to right) Ridvan Mentes, Nina Popova, Nadya Lekarska, Gaprindashvili, Miguel de Moragas, Chris Dubrel de Broglio, and Sivanthi Adityan.